Welcome

Las Tunas: Balcon Del Oriente Cubano (Balcony of the Cuban East).

Las Tunas is one of the youngest cities in Cuba, known for the epithet of “The Capital of the Sculptures,” or “The City of the Murals” as many now recognize it. The truth is that Las Tunas shows a new face today. A warm welcome to all those who decide to visit this region full of stories, culture, and traditions, nuanced with the warmth and simplicity of its people!

With a population of more than 500 thousand inhabitants, it has a surface area of 6592.66 square km, distributed in 8 municipalities (to the North: Manati, Puerto Padre and Jesus Menendez; in the center Majibacoa and Las Tunas, and to the South, Jobabo, Colombia and Amancio), each of them treasures important natural and heritage values, from fine sand beaches, protected areas, crocodile reservoir, to villages that still preserve their traces in time of the American presence in Cuba.

It results a great attraction walking through Las Tunas, City of open doors, visiting its parks, its squares, its museums; enjoying its nature, bathing in its beaches, talking with its people, knowing its culture.

Next to the plaza, is located Vicente Garcia Park, with more than 100 years from its construction. The work of the builder Luis Buenaventura Ruiz, this park boasts the name of the Illustrious Son of Las Tunas. Within the same park is located the San Geronimo de Las Tunas Church, whose history is closely linked to the history of the territory, from the sovereignty of Cueiba where a Catholic chapel was erected for the first time to worship the Virgin Mary. Crossing the avenue, you can find the Provincial Museum “Mayor General Vicente Garcia Gonzalez” (Francisco Varona Street btw / Angel Guardia and Lucas Ortiz streets) former Government Palace, the most significant eclectic style building in the City. The visitor can appreciate the vast collection of objects related to the Wars of Independence, a natural history room, and a space set with luxurious decorative arts objects. Nearby, walking along the same avenue is the “Mayor General Vicente Garcia Gonzalez” Memorial, which stands on the ruins of what was once the Natal House of the former patriot from Las Tunas. We also suggest Tour the Cornito: a must visit in Las Tunas, named after the creek that crosses the place; it was the birthplace of the poet Juan Cristobal Napoles Fajardo, Cucalambe. It encompasses almost eight kilometers until it ends at the cattle fair stands, the rodeo, the amusement park, the zoo, the botanical garden of the city and in the end we find a cultural recreational center in the shade of a bamboo forest and more. Find it out in Las Tunas!!!

Take the caldosa tunera: at the entrance of Las Tunas, if you visit it from the Cuban West, a dish that is famous all over Cuba is prepared: the Kike and Marina caldosa tunera (a tasty broth typical from the region) that has become a fundamental recipe in the Cuban gastronomy traditions.

Taste the tamal tune-ro: we like the tamales of tender corn wrapped in the same leaf of the cob. We season them well with chili peppers, garlic and onion, and we always put pork or pork cracklings. We differentiate it from other provinces where they are made with coconut milk and wrapped in banana leaves. But undoubtedly the most liked are those of sweet corn made in its leaf. You can taste it in the restaurant La Esquina!!!

Mayor General Vicente García (1833-1886)

He reached the rank of major general of the Liberating Army; He was among the first to join the armed struggle for the independence of Cuba. His soldiers felt veneration for him and did not want other bosses to command them. Many considered him the most controversial figure of the Ten Years War, although no one questioned his bravery, his great values as chief and his fidelity to the Homeland.

The knight of Las Tunas

Alberto Alvarez Jaramillo – El Comandante - was in his good times a willing, enterprising young man and friend to do well. But a mistake in the administration of a medication disturbed his mind in a matter of a few months, and since then he walked the streets of Las Tunas dressed as a military man, perhaps a memory of her brief passage through the life of a uniform. The Commander was an imitation of a rustic Don Quixote, a knight of Paris, fantasy and calm. He admired Fidel; he hated criminals, dressed cleanly, saluted the flag and loved his land.
Natural attractions

Located on the road to Puerto Padre, Nueve Palmas, crossing the Mijial, the farm belongs to the CCS Paco Cabrera (cooperative group of credits and services) of the agricultural company Antonio Guiteras. There, the visitor can visit the farm mounted on horse-drawn cars and a beautiful pair of bulls, observe a pleasant landscape, the cultivation of sugar cane, coffee, different types of food, vegetables and fruits, diversity of animals and poultry, all in a healthy and natural environment. An artisanal guarapera is shown where the visitor can grind the cane and taste a rich guarapo criollo (juice of the sugar cane). Enjoy in the shade of a roofed caney (type of rural construction) with yagua (leaves of the palm tree) the rich flavor of our natural fruits and juices. This farm defends sustainable agriculture.

Finca La Conchita

Located in the south of the province, this protected area claims to be the largest hatchery of the American crocodile or Acutus. An investigation dedicated to the study and conservation of this species is constantly carried out by devoted workers who reside in a biological station built for these purposes in the heart of Monte Cabaniguán. The admirer of nature can appreciate a great diversity of birds that begin to fly in large flocks such as herons, flamingos, yaguazas and pelicans. Others such as catey, cartacuba, tomeguin, tocororo and different species of carpenters, including the churroso, in danger of extinction, stand out for their quantity and beauty. All in a perfect mix of seascapes and bird trills. You can also do sport fishing there; there are species such as tarpos, barracudas, snappers, bibs and needles. Nearby there is Palo Seco, a significant historical place for witnessing one of the most famous battles of the Liberating Army, led by Maximo Gomez.

Lago Azul

The Blue Lake is a recreational and natural complex opened in 2006. It is named after the color of its waters although it is also known as Las Minas. Initially it was a kaolin mine, then, due to the constant excavations some springs were discovered that gave rise to the lake. Even today the inhabitants of this place speculate that there is an excavator at the base that was used in the quarry’s own activities. What is true is that despite its translucent waters it is impossible to see the bottom, adding more charm and mystery to the place. It is located 35 kilometers from the city of Las Tunas, on the way to the spas of Covarrubias and Santa Lucia and only 9 kilometers away from the Cerro de Caisimu camping site.
